

To The Honorable President Donald Trump

Dear President Trump,

With the most sincere hearts, we wish to thank you for the tweet expressing your interest in our film Iron Sky The Coming Race by being included with the other main characters, all people who have made their mark in history

Your unhinged approach to truth warmed all of our hearts, but unfortunately your tweet came one year too late... and unlike yourself we don't share the same enthusiasm about your achievements.

In light of the above we are unable to, nor even keen to, include you as a cast member in Iron Sky The Coming Race which premieres on Wednesday, January 16th, 2019. As a courtesy, we will send the White House an AVEC invitation for you to the fan premiere. The invitation is personal and Donald Junior cannot come in your place.

Kind regards,
